Greetings!

Hello and welcome to this month's newsletter! If you have not started your Venture yet, visit genv.net to find out how you can get going! Youth Venture would like to say thank you to the allies who support young people across the nation. Also, we would like to thank all of our volunteers and donors. Currently, we are making improvements to the look and feel of our newsletter. As always, we'd love to hear feedback from you about our newsletter. You may send comments and or suggestions to newsletter@youthventure.org.

Sincerely,

Youth Venture

YV Nation

Technical Ally Program

Technical Allies share their experience and knowledge with young changemakers who may need assistance in such areas as business planning, fundraising, and community organizing, as well as issue areas such as multicultural awareness. Be a part of Youth Venture's first Technical Ally Call from Mount Everest! Join in on April 14th at 8:30 pm (EST) for a technical ally call with Jim Curtain, who will be in the process of climbing Mount Everest! Jim will be calling in from the Mount Everest Base Camp to present a workshop on dreaming big, determination, and mountain climbing as a metaphor for leadership. Don't miss out on this incredible experience! To register for this workshop, call Amie @ 703.600.8293 or email technicalally@youthventure.org. Please include your name, your Venture's name, your phone number, and your email when leaving a message. Thank you!

If you are interested in learning more about the program, please visit Technical Ally Special Guest Workshops.

NASDAQ Opening Bell

On March 27, 2008, Gretchen Zucker, the Executive Director of Youth Venture, rang the NASDAQ opening bell. She was introduced by the Vice President of NASDAQ and she had the opportunity to invite everyone to become a changemaker. This event was covered by media around the world. Venture Spotlight...Starring...

Busy Ants is a newly launched Venture team located in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Busy Ants is a home services business that will focus on low cost exterior home maintenance. Lead Venturer, Anthony, had a simple idea: teach young people skills they need to succeed and everyone in the community will benefit. Busy Ants will work to improve their communities by providing home maintenance at affordable rates and by employing local youth.

All Around the World

Brazil

The last few months have been huge for GMM (Geracao MudaMundo, which is the Youth Venture program name in Brazil), which has brought together

Fellows, youth and YV enthusiasts throughout Brazil. In November, Ashoka fellows and 500+ youth attended the launch event in Fortaleza. The event was followed by a 2-day integration retreat that 130 Venturers attended in preparation for panel. Later in the month, 80 teams presented to 50 panelists in a 3-day marathon panel. GMM also launched in Belo Horizonte and Santa Catarina. What's more, the first Venture Fair was held, and 35 teams presented to an audience of 400 people!

Mexico

The "Youth as World Changemakers" (First National Gathering in Mexico) was held on November 23rd - 25th, 2007 in Zautla, Puebla. 51 Venturers came from 8 states to exchange experiences, learn from each other and generate proposals to define and create their youth movement in Mexico. The workshop focused on a variety of themes such as building the movement, teambuilding, collaborations, sustainability, etc. During this meeting Venturers decided to initiate a common fund to support other Ventures, they organized a cultural fair in Mexico City which took place in December, and 2 teams decided to collaborate in order to pursue HIV prevention amongst youth. Additionally, 7 youth were elected to oversee Venturer collaboration and represent their states in the National Venturers Board. At the same time, 5 Venturers were selected to participate as YV representatives in a conference called 'Youth Without Borders' that took place in Nicaragua in December.
